

NO AGREEMENT TO BE REACHED

This Is The Prediction Of The Men Who Watch The Inside Of Coal Situation.

AN EFFORT TO BREAK DEADLOCK

Fight In An Open Session Is Now Expected, As The Conference Is Now Powerless To Act
On Question.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Indianapolis, Ind., March 23.—The joint scale committee of the coal operators and miners of the central competitive and southwestern districts went into executive sessions today in a final effort to break the deadlock that has existed since the conference on the wage scale began. Before the committees went into session the leaders on both sides expressed an opinion that no agreement would be reached in the committee and predicted a meeting of the joint conference would be called some time during the day to take up the fight in the open convention.

Operators Reject Compromise.

The miners offered a compromise proposition yesterday in the joint scale committee meeting, and it was rejected by the operators. The basis of the proposal was the restoration of the 1903 wage scale, which would mean an increase of approximately 5.55 per cent.

Francis L. Robbins, of Pittsburg, former leader of the operators, was the only employer to vote with the miners in favor of the scale. The operators from Illinois, Ohio and Indiana voted solidly against it.

In this condition, the matter was left last night. There will be another meeting of the joint scale committee today, when a final effort to bring the two sides together will be made. Unless some entirely new compromise plan is hit upon over night a final disagreement seems inevitable. In that case the joint convention of operators and miners will be convened immediately and the fight will be against the strike.

May Cause General Strike.

The national officers of the miners' union said that if a strike is called it will affect practically every union of bituminous miners in the country and may precipitate a general anthracite strike.

While the negotiations now in progress are confined to the dispute between the operators and miners of the four central competitive states of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, the bituminous mining districts of less importance, such as Missouri, Arkansas, Kansas, Texas, Iowa and Indian territory, will be drawn into the fight. The miners of the southwest and their employers are in a separate conference here awaiting a final decision in the larger council. Iowa will be guided in a similar way.

Anthracite Situation.

Upon the issue of the bituminous conference depends largely the question of strike or peace throughout the anthracite fields. President Mitchell is ready to call a special meeting of the miners' anthracite scale committee the moment a disagreement is reached. He has received Mr. Baer's letter agreeing to another anthracite conference, but beyond stating that such a meeting undoubtedly will be held he refuses to predict the result. It is believed, in the event of a bituminous strike, that great modifications will be made by the miners in their demands in the hope of keeping men at work in the hard coal fields.

BERNARD M. PALMER WRITES ON THE JUDICIAL SITUATION

Sends Communication To The Gazette Regarding His Signing Certain Nomination Papers.

The following communication has been handed to the Gazette with the request it be published:

To the Editor of the Gazette: The Recorder under date of March 20th published a list of attorneys of this county whose names appear on the nomination papers of Judge Sale. The evident purport of such publication at that time was to convey the idea that all the lawyers whose names there appeared were supporting Judge Sale and were against Judge Dunwiddie.

As my name was on the list I think it only fair to the voters of Rock county to say that I signed the nomination papers of Judge Sale, upon the sole assurance that Judge Dunwiddie would not be a candidate, and that Judge Sale would be the only candidate from Rock county at the coming election. These assurances were made to me by three lawyers of this city, whose names I can give if they are wanted. As I signed the paper with that understanding, possibly other lawyers whose names appear upon it signed it because of the same statement to them.

I am now and always have been a supporter of Judge Dunwiddie, and I do not think any lawyer practicing in the circuit can come forth with any reasonable or legitimate complaint against his conduct while upon the bench. It necessarily results that any circuit judge who performs the duties of his office with uprightness and a desire to secure justice must make some enemies among the lawyers practicing before him. In the circuit court in that respect, the judge's work is usually in regard to warmly contested cases, and it is necessary in every case to find against

On the eve of his execution a respite was given because of a confession from Small that he alone had committed the murder. Small was placed on trial and the testimony went to show that both of the negroes participated in the killing of Miss Allison and the subsequent robbery of her house.

St. Petersburg, March 23.—Lawlessness and crime are keeping pace in Russia with the repressive measures of the government. The majority of the robberies and assassinations are of a political nature, and everywhere revolutionists are fighting their oppressors with bombs and revolvers.

WOMAN COMMANDANT OF OLD NAVY YARD

Widow of Late Head Appointed to Charge of Yard at Sackett's Harbor.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—For the first time in the history of the United States a woman has been designated by the President as commandant of a navy yard. The navy yard, it is true, is only a little one at Sackett's Harbor, on Lake Ontario, in New York state, but it is a navy yard nevertheless, and at one time in its history was famous. The woman thus honored is the widow of Albert H. Metcalfe, late commandant of the yard, and she is the third that bears the name of Metcalfe to hold the position. The navy yard has been in existence for almost a century, and since it was authorized by congress, back in 1807, many of America's distinguished naval officers have commanded it.

VARDAMAN SAVES A NEGRO FROM ROPE

Notorious Enemy of Colored Race
Unite with Brutal Murderer—
Was To Have Hanged.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Jackson, Miss., March 23.—Thanks to the clemency of Governor Vardaman, the negro Scott Williams did not die on the gallows today as sentenced by the court, the sentence having been commuted to life imprisonment by the governor. Williams murdered another negro named Taylor at Grenada two years ago. The killing resulted from a quarrel over a woman and all the testimony tended to show that it was a cold-blooded affair. The murderer, however, had been well thought of by a number of persons of prominence and influence and they joined in a petition to the governor. Another factor that influenced the governor to commute the sentence was the fact that on one occasion the condemned negro had saved the life of the jailer when a jail delivery was planned by other prisoners.

SPEAKER HELD HOUSE IN HAND

Statehood Conference Vote Results In Victory
For Mr. Cannon's Ideas.

SENATORS UPSET CLEVER PROJECT

Propose To Select Conferees Who Are In Favor Of The Bill As Passed By The Upper House In Place of Others.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, March 23.—Speaker Cannon won his fight in the house on the statehood bill Thursday. His victory was not sweeping, as he had for his policy the narrow margin of nineteen. A change of ten votes from his standard to that of the insurgents would have resulted in his defeat. The vote on the adoption of the rule was 175 to 156, the insurgents contributing forty-one votes against the rule.

The measure now goes to conference in the form in which it passed the senate. The admission of one state, to be composed of Oklahoma and Indian Territory, is provided for. No reference is made to Arizona and New Mexico.

Senators to Select Conferees.

A setback for the speaker's plan followed quickly upon his victory in the house. Senator Beveridge, chairman of the senate territories committee, as soon as the bill reached the senate from the house asking a conference, moved that the senate consent and that conferees be appointed to meet Representatives Hamilton of Michigan, Brick of Indiana, Republicans, and Moon of Tennessee, conferees on the part of the house. Senator Foraker of Ohio promptly objected to the appointment of anyone not in sympathy with the bill as it passed the senate. He insisted that the senate conferees should reflect the sentiment of that body and therefore should be appointed by the senate, and not in the usual routine, as designated by Mr. Beveridge.

Will Favor Senate Bill.

Ordinarily Mr. Beveridge and Mr. Dillingham, the two ranking Republican members of the territories committee, would serve as the two Republican conferees on the part of the senate. Both are opposed to the bill as it stands, and are in favor of the joint bill for the admission of the four territories as two states—the house bill for which the speaker is fighting.

With Mr. Beveridge and Mr. Dillingham on the conference committee, it would have stood four Republicans in favor of the house bill and two Democrats opposed.

Upon Mr. Foraker's motion the senate will appoint conferees, and the conference committee will differ materially from that to which the speaker thought the bill would be committed. It will stand two Republicans, those from the house, in favor of the house bill, and two Republicans from the senate, and two Democrats, one from the senate, and the other from the house, in favor of the senate bill.

RICH MILWAUKEE MAN TOOK HIS OWN LIFE YESTERDAY

Heir To Many Millions Put A Bullet Through His Brain In His Bed Room.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 23.—After bowling with a group of friends whose names rank among the best known in the northwest, William Mariner, son of Ephraim Mariner, a multimillionaire, went to his home Wednesday night and shot himself through the head. The body was not found until Thursday afternoon, when his non-appearance caused an investigation resulting in the discovery of the suicide.

The cause is not definitely known. In a statement issued soon after the finding of the body John Mariner, the dead man's brother, says the family can ascribe no cause for the suicide.

In some quarters it was reported that ill health for five or six years past, family troubles or a financial squeeze might have caused despondency and driven him to kill himself.

Carried Out Set Purpose.

It is believed that Mariner had deliberately planned his death from the fact that he seemed moody Wednesday night and appears to have killed himself as soon as he reached his bedroom.

The Mariner family is one of the richest in this section of the country. Although Ephraim Mariner, the head of the family, is still alive, his age has resulted in the devolving upon his sons of the care of most of his business and William Mariner is said to have had charge of the entire real estate interests of his father.

Estate Owns Much Land.

The magnitude of the business is shown when it is stated that the Mariner estate is one of the greatest land holders in the United States, having besides great tracts of improved land in this and other cities enormous holdings in timber and cut-over lands. Relatives declare that there was nothing in either the family affairs or financial matters interesting the estate that could have caused Mariner to end his life. Neither is the story of ill health given credence by his relatives.

Ephraim Mariner, the father, was the only member of the family who was not shocked at the discovery of his son's death. It almost seemed to interviewers as though he had expected some such occurrence. The suicide was about 45 years old.

STATE NOTES

Peter Roese, a farmer living south of Sheboygan, was found dead with his neck broken under a load of lumber Thursday morning. The body was frozen stiff and the load had evidently left the road and crushed the life out of Roese as it tipped over.

With the mercury registering 4 degrees below zero, Mathew Michaels of Milwaukee was found in an unconscious condition in a doorway in Appleton early Thursday morning. Had the wind not blown a casual pedestrian's hat into the doorway where he lay it is believed Michaels would have frozen to death.

Grand Juror H. C. Glele suddenly became sick Wednesday night and there was no session of the Ashland grand jury on Thursday. District Attorney Dillon and Mike Barry of Phillips, who represent the state, are undecided as to what course to pursue if Glele's illness continues. The jury has been in session sixteen days.

"Everything is impossible until we see a success." Your own business is probably bigger now than you thought "possible" before you became a shrewd (which means a "large") advertiser.

So there is to be a fight for the city attorneyship after all.

Som. wag said that there was something Grimm about this judicial campaign.

The rate bill is still a question of debate and Senator Spooner is to be heard from yet.

If all the people who move away from Janesville staid here the city would be good sized.

Judge Grimm does not say definitely that he will do anything but he gives his supporters half promises galore.

The Yerkes-Mizner wedding appears to have been a funny sort of a compromise the public are not yet on the inside of.

If the Boxers get control of the Chinese situation the foreign powers can begin to get down to fighting weight at once.

Somebody's hack ran over somebody else in the Fourth ward Tuesday and in the Second somebody has not yet recovered.

Janesville had a dog tax forty years ago and enforced it. She had an ordinance creating a system of licensing canines two years ago.

Teachers in Otee county, Nebraska, are required to agree in writing that they will not get married during the school year for which they are hired. O, what a difference in Wisconsin!

Janesville demonstrated what a closed town means on Tuesday last and no one died of thirst either although many went to Beloit for their liquids.

The Beloit Daily News is warmly supporting Mr. Rosa for the judge of the Beloit court. This will doubtless influence many who were doubtful as to how they ought to vote.

The question of who is to be supreme court judge does not appear to attract much discussion throughout the state. It is doubtful if many of the voters know who is running.

Admiral Dewey says that the United States needs more and bigger ships. That is true and the government should have it. There is nothing like a show of force to keep the rest of the world in a peaceful attitude.

It is doubtful if a hundred dollars could be raised to bring an industry to Janesville at the present time while it is a certainty that many thousands could be subscribed for mines in the Plateville mining district.

The demonstration of the primary law last Tuesday is far from satisfactory. There are so many loop holes to be filled in that it is practically useless in its present form and no true method of deciding the true voice of the people.

Milwaukee promises to be the scene of a battle royal on the mayorality question. Rose and Becker stand in the fore while the dark horse Arnold is rapidly making things interesting for both of them.

The question of the Dunn Pocket Ballot law to be voted on at the coming election appears to bother the county clerks throughout the state. There is a long copy of the law which is ordered published as an explanation to voters and no money appropriated to pay for its printing. The law is a cleverly constructed affair which would cost the state thousands of dollars if passed and the voters more annoyance in voting. It should be defeated.

FURTHER RETURNS FROM JOLO.
Additional reports of the action at Mount Dajo confirm the correctness of the President's estimate of it and causes confusion to those critics who were so ready to go off at half cock with furious denunciations of the bloodthirsty barbarities of the American army. It now appears that there was no complete examination of the outlaw band. Every effort was made to avoid injuring the women and children, many of whom were saved, and supplies, assistance and shelter were promptly given to them by our troops.

after the battle. As for the charge that the action was needlessly precipitated, and that the outlaws might have been captured without a fight if a little patience had been exercised, it is now to be observed that efforts to induce or compel them to surrender had been patiently made for six months without effect, the fanatical Moslems believing they would be able to hold their crater-fortress for at least two years. Finally, as to the status of these "martyr patriots" who died "defending their homes and their liberties," it is to be observed that a number of leading Moros actively co-operated with our troops, and that the Sultan, and his chief datos, are congratulating our troops and are rejoicing in the ridding of the island of a pest and a burden, so that now the fields can be tilled and industries prosecuted without molestation.

If it be asked why we were not told all this at his outset, two effective answers are to be made. One is that it is too much to "expect all things in an hour," even all the facts concerning a battle. Full accounts of all the circumstances of far more important incidents than this at a far less distance from home have often been delayed and distributed through a number of days. It is not strange that it should be so in this case. Indeed, we may not look for entirely full information until advices are received by mail several weeks hence. The other answer is that both discretion and decency required it to be assumed at the outset that our army had acted in a becoming manner. Our army has not, in all its history, been so noted for cruelty and barbarism as to warrant any one in hastily assuming it has displayed these qualities. Certainly it is entitled to the common privilege which is accorded to even the worst of men, of being considered innocent of wrongdoing until it is proved guilty. To believe, in the absence of proof, the worst of the army, and to assume, on the most meagre and fragmentary reports, that the flag of the nation has been stained with dishonor, and all for the sake of venting partisan spite, is a most unworthy and discreditable thing.

THE PERSONAL EQUATION.

The German commissioners who made a study of the American railroads seem, according to a summary which has been made by B. H. Meyer for the Railway Age, to have been complimentary in a large degree, says the Wall Street Journal. Their report, however, contains one statement which is by no means flattering to American railway management. Speaking of safety in railway travel, the commissioners say that "in Germany mechanical devices are supplemented by human watchfulness." This is a source of great expense, and if the American railways were to be guarded as carefully as the Prussian they would be obliged to employ 636,000 men instead of 49,961. They declare that the railways in the United States kill 6 1/2 times as many persons and injure 29 times as many as the Prussian railways.

American railway statisticians may be able to show that this statement is erroneous. It is well, however, to take into consideration the declaration that in Germany mechanical devices are supplemented by human watchfulness. Is it not true that in this country we are depending too much upon mechanical devices and are paying too little attention to human watchfulness?

JUDICIAL TALK.

In the Gazette of yesterday, a communication from a Milton Junction resident was published and answered. It was not stated at that time that the names of the attorneys engaged in this deceiving the voters of the county were withheld but they were. Personalities and references of a blind character which characterize a political campaign should not be part of a contest for judicial honors. The Gazette has repeatedly stated that its sole purpose in supporting Judge Dunwiddie is to notify the voters that unless he is well supported by them there is grave danger of the judgeship going to Judge Grimm of Jefferson county. The Gazette does not believe that Judge Sale can secure enough votes in Green and Jefferson counties to assure his election even if he should secure a good endorsement from his home county. His campaign is being conducted by a coterie of lawyers who apparently seek to defeat Judge Dunwiddie for personal reasons. It is now up to the voters to decide whether they will vote as they themselves believe to be right or be influenced by the coterie that seek to ruin the judicial situation. As a man, as a lawyer, as a judge, The Gazette has the greatest admiration for Judge Sale but it does not believe that he can muster enough support in Green and Jefferson counties to elect him. A careful resume of the situation made from an impartial point of view on the other hand shows that Judge Dunwiddie is exceptionally strong in Green county and has a good following in Jefferson county. If the voters wish to retain the circuit judgeship in Rock county they should vote for Judge Dunwiddie.

PRESS COMMENT.

His Good Behavior Awaits Beloit. Beloit News: In spite of the cold weather John L. Sullivan—who is sojourning in our midst—has not donned his skates.

He Hired a Poet.

Press and Printer: John Temple Graves has started a newspaper in Atlanta and one of the first things he did was to hire a well known poet. The work of Frank L. Stanton on the Atlanta Constitution seems to have convinced all Georgians that a newspaper can not be a well regulated concern without a staff poet.

WHY YOU SHOULD VOTE FOR JUDGE DUNWIDDIE

Judge Sale's friends claim that he has considerable strength in Green and Jefferson counties. For the past nineteen years Judge Sale has been county judge in Rock county, with no business outside of Rock county. At the present time it is safe to say that not one person in a hundred in either Green or Jefferson county would know Judge Sale if he met him face to face. On the other hand, Judge Dunwiddie was born in Green county, lived there until he became a man, taught school there, and practiced law there for years as well as in Jefferson county. During the last seven years has held terms of court in each of these counties regularly several times a year, in fact, is almost as well known in both Green and Jefferson county as in Rock county. What foundation can there be, therefore, for such claims?

These are matters you can determine for yourself, and you are bound to come to the conclusion that the claims of Judge Sale's supporters regarding his strength outside of Rock county are absolutely without foundation.

A plain, blunt man, who does not think of being politic, who does not ask: "Had I better please this person or that person," or "Should I please his duty fearlessly and impartially—such a man in a judicial office one would think would have the unanimous support of the people. Such a man is Judge Dunwiddie; is he to be denied that unanimous support because he has not pleased some of the lawyers?

Does anyone think that Judge Dunwiddie will not have a very large vote in Rock county, his home?

TOBACCO GOSSIP ON THE VIRGINIA CROP

Special Correspondence from Washington as to the Existing Conditions.

Washington, D. C., March 21.—Advices from the Virginia tobacco markets indicate that good tobacco is becoming scarce, demonstrating that the supply is shortening. Only a small per cent of this year's crop now remains in first hands. Receipts at Richmond, Va., continue moderate and the market active. The receipts of bright tobacco continue light, but the market is quite brisk. The tobacco coming in during the past several weeks is in damaged condition and sells low. Prices have ranged as follows: dark fired tobacco, new lugs, $4.50 and $6; short leaf, $6 and $8; medium leaf, $7 and $9; long leaf, $9 and $12; wrappers and selection, $10 and $15; steaming tobacco, new lugs, $4 and $5.75; short leaf, $6 and $7.50; medium leaf, $8 and $9; long leaf, $9 and $10; selection, $10 and $12; bright tobacco, reconditioned, smokers, common, $7 and $9; medium, $9.50 and $11.50; fine, $12 and $13; cutters, common, $11 and $12.50; medium, $13 and $14; fine, $14.50 and $16; fancy, $17 and $20; fillers, common, $7 and $8; medium, $9 and $10; good, $10.50 and $11.50; fine, $12 and $14; wrappers, common, $14 and $16; medium, $17 and $20; good, $25 and $30; fine, $32.50 and $37.50; fancy, $40 and $45. Sun cured tobacco, new lugs, common to good, $3 and $6; lugs, good to prime, $6 and $7.50; short leaf, $7 and $9; long leaf, $8.50 and $11; wrappers, $12 and $30.

Offerings on the Danville, Va., market have been small of late. There is no change in their quality, the medium grades predominating as they have done heretofore. Prices are strong and the market is active. Trading round lots is active and there is a good demand for all grades. Receipts at Petersburg, Va., have also been light, but prices have been well maintained on all grades except the long shipping leaf. The average price for all grades has been good, ranging from $6 to $25 per hundred pounds. It is estimated that eighty per cent of the tobacco raised in the counties contiguous to Petersburg has been sold.

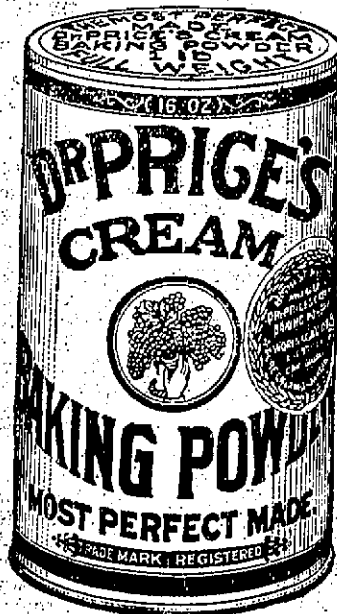

About 500,000 pounds of tobacco have been sold on the South Boston, Va., market during the past two weeks, at an average of ten and a half cents. Sales to date aggregate a little over twelve million pounds; and it is estimated that more than 85 per cent of the crop has been disposed of. The farmers have held numerous meetings in the counties in southern Virginia and in Carolina and appear to be making headway in organizing the tobacco growers' protective association. The independent manufacturing project seems to have been abandoned by the farmers, but they are urging organization to secure better prices.

Breaks of leaf tobacco at Durham, N. C., have been light for the past several weeks for the reason that only a small quantity of tobacco remains in the hands of the growers and also because preparations are being made for the coming crop. Some inconvenience has been caused the growers through the desertion of the colored hands for the coal mines and railroad construction camps. The planters have held several meetings and it begins to look as though they will become thoroughly organized in course of time.

After being out all night the jury at Waukegan, Ill., returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree, with a sentence of life imprisonment, against Salvatore Gravano and Salvatore Pilo, charged with the murder of three countrymen.

The drainage commissioners of Hahnemann township, near Sterling, Ill., have filed a damage suit against the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad for $20,000, claiming that the grade caused that much damage to farms by stopping drainage.

Alleged Insult to Cummins Resented by Council-Bluffs Clubs.

Des Moines, Iowa, March 23.—A resolution requesting that a petition for the impeachment of Judge Smith McPherson of the Federal court be sent to President Roosevelt because it was alleged he insulted Governor A. B. Cummins at a banquet has been introduced into the Federation of Improvement Clubs at Council-Bluffs. The resolution was not acted upon, but has been referred to a secret committee for investigation. A demand was made that Judge McPherson be removed from the bench by congress.

FINDS $31,883 IN THE SWEEPINGS

Envelope in Rubbish Pile Contains Fortune Lost by Traveler.

Harrisburg, Miss., March 23.—The negro porter in Connor Brothers' shoe store was about to pitch the sweepings of the store into a rear alley, when Policeman Norwood reached down into the pile of rubbish and picked out an envelope from which he drew greenbacks, bank checks and other negotiable papers to the value of $31,883.12. The money and papers were the property of Dr. J. A. Sikes of Iron City, Pa., who spent the early part of the week here and then traveled on to New Orleans before he discovered that his fortune was missing.

The executive committee of members of the four counties of the North Wisconsin Farmers' association has decisively settled the vexing question as to the right of real estate men to be represented on the car Grassland. It was voted to include the names of all real estate dealers in advertising matter who pay a fee of $10 each.

MISS EMMA WIEGLEF DIED SUDDENLY AT PARK HOTEL

of Milton came to Janesville this week to have a specialist attend to her teeth.

She says that Dr. Richards (who is doing her dental work) really does do painless work.

She affirms that he cut off a tooth, took out a live nerve and fitted on a porcelain crown for her all without hurting her.

These genuine testimonials are very interesting, as they reveal to the general public knowledge of the fact that we have in Janesville a man who is doing the very latest, up-to-date, 20th century, painless dentistry.

And that he is SUCCESSFUL in his claims to painless work.

Presbyterian Pastor and Millionaire from Oshkosh Inspected New Edifice.

Rev. A. M. Ayers of the First Presbyterian church at Oshkosh and Mr. Mainland, a trustee in the church and a millionaire, were in Janesville yesterday inspecting the new Carroll Methodist church. Mr. Mainland, who is president of the Oshkosh gas and electric companies, has recently donated $15,000 to the Presbyterian society for an addition to their house of worship, where the Sunday school and church societies can have rooms. The inspection of the Janesville edifice was with a view of getting pointers on arrangement of rooms and as regards the success of the heating and ventilating system used in the building.

CAUGHT COLD YESTERDAY

Lungs Became Congested and Result Was a Cerebral Thrombosis—Ate Breakfast Today.

As a result of a cold contracted while still in a weakened condition from the injuries received in a recent runaway accident here, F. C. Johnson of Milwaukee died suddenly at half past nine o'clock this morning in his room at the Park hotel. It will be remembered that a week ago today the deceased was hurled from a rig onto the sidewalk and against a stone wall at the top of East Milwaukee street hill and sustained very serious scalp wounds. He was taken to the Palmer Memorial hospital but early in the week returned to the hotel against the wishes of the attending physician and his friends. He said he felt at home in a hotel and was in a condition to care for himself.

Donned Spring Coat.

Improvement seemed rapid and yesterday Mr. Johnson purchased a new spring overcoat preparatory to leaving today on a trip to Watertown, where he has friends. He was about town during the day and when he returned to the hotel late in the afternoon he complained of feeling cold. Arising at the usual hour this morning he came down to breakfast at seven. The man did not appear to be feeling well and was assisted to his room again by Day Clerk W. Loucks. He then asked that Dr. Woods be summoned in order that the physician's consent to the Watertown trip be gained.

Lungs Were Congested.

The doctor found Mr. Johnson in a precarious condition. The sick man admitted that he was feeling ill and that the climb up the stairs had made him short of breath. It was ascertained that the lungs were becoming congested and Dr. Woods hurriedly arranged to have his patient taken to the hospital in the ambulance. When he returned to the room after telephoning the man was rapidly sinking and, unable to talk. There were a few gasps and the end came. The immediate cause of death was a cerebral thrombosis; that is, the forming of a blood clot on the brain, which was a result of the pulmonary affection.

One Brother Left.

The remains were taken to the Kimball morgue. Timothy Mullovey, "black man" for the International Harvester company, under whom Mr. Johnson was working, took charge of the body and the effects. He expected to get into communication with a brother of the deceased who resides in the northern part of the state. This brother is the only relative left by Mr. Johnson, his father and mother having died some years ago and the being unmarried.

Well Thought Of.

Mr. Johnson was about forty years of age and a large and healthy man. He has been traveling for the International company for some time and is well known and favorably thought of among his many associates in the trade. At one time he was in the retail implement business with Knapp & Son at Darlington and formerly was a school teacher and drug clerk.

C. A. Blaisdell of Milton, who was brought here from La Crosse some time ago to answer to the charge of obtaining sums of money totaling $25 from David M. Barlass on a series of plausible pretenses such as the avowed intention of purchasing a new threshing machine engine if he could trade his old one and a small cash bonus for three horses, the bonus to be advanced by Mr. Barlass who was to have the horses as security, etc., appeared in municipal court this morning and amended his plea to "guilty."

He was sentenced to serve one year in the state's prison at Waupun, and will be taken thither tomorrow morning.

WOMAN KILLED AT EDGERTON TODAY

MRS. MORRIS HAIN STRUCK BY ST. PAUL PASSENGER TRAIN.

WAS THROWN THIRTY FEET

Was Driving to Town with Wagonload of Chickens—Did Not Hear Train.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Edgerton, March 23.—While crossing the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul tracks at Westlake Crossing, just inside the city limits, this morning, Mrs. Morris W. Hain was struck by train No. 142, southbound, due here at 9:59, and instantly killed. Her remains were brought to the station here on the train. Mrs. Hain, who lived west of the city, was driving to this city with a lumber wagon full of chickens. Evidently the wagon made so much noise she did not hear the train coming and the wagon was struck fairly in the middle by the engine. Mrs. Hain was thrown thirty feet and struck against the switch iron brake, killing her instantly. The team was dragged for a block before the train could be stopped and were so mangled that they were shot. Mrs. Hain was formerly Miss Anna Silverwood. She was about thirty-five years of age and leaves a husband, a father and one sister to mourn her loss.

The tragedy occurred at the point about 700 feet from the water tower where the road which forms the southwest entrance to the city and parallels the St. Paul track turns sharply to the northward and crosses the rails as they issue from a deep cut. A double-header freight train bound for the northwest was waiting on a sidetrack just east of the crossing and it is supposed that the attention of the unfortunate woman was fixed on this train up to the moment when the 10:30, southeast-bound passenger issued from the cut and she whirled the horses in vain to get them clear in time. L. E. Gettle, who tried a lawsuit here today, was an eye witness. From the depot platform he saw indistinguishable objects ahead and whirled before the locomotive which traveled nearly 500 feet beyond the crossing and came to a stop about fifty feet from the water tank, with one horse impaled on the cow-catcher and still writhing and the torn carcass of the other dragged behind the wheels. Every chicken in the crates which lay scattered about the crossing was dead.

One defeated candidate spent all day Wednesday explaining to his friends that the democrats elected his opponent because he was the easiest man for them to beat at the polls. "That is the beauty of this primary all right, all right."

"Say, the only men who do not care what happens now are Watt, Merritt and Rudolph among the aldermen and Jim's father, Jesse Earle and A. M. Fisher on the city ticket. They are as good as elected now."

MOONEY NOT GUILTY WAS JURY'S VERDICT

Edgerton Man on Trial for Statutory Offense Discharged This Afternoon.

Closing arguments were made by District Attorney John L. Fisher and Attorney L. E. Gettle in the criminal action of the State vs. John Mooney of Edgerton in municipal court this morning. The jury retired to pass upon the evidence shortly after ten o'clock. At 2:15 they reached an agreement and returning to the court room announced their verdict of "not guilty." Thereupon the prisoner was discharged by the court.

— FORTY YEARS AGO —

Odd Fellows' Festival.—We understand that preparations are being made for a good time next Tuesday evening at the Court Room and at the Myers House by the fraternity of this city. Good speakers are already provided.

Centenary.—There will be a Centenary meeting at the M. E. church tonight to commence at 7 o'clock. The following clergymen are to be present and address the meeting: Pres. Steele of Lawrence University, Prof. Colman Reves, C. D. Pillsbury, W. W. Chase and E. D. Farnum. Also quarterly meeting Saturday and Sunday, preaching tomorrow at 2 o'clock by Rev. C. D. Pillsbury.

The Millennium Coming?—The quietness that prevails in political circles in this city at the present time, is almost prophetic of that good time coming when the lion and the juvenile sheep shall lie down together in peace. It is now less than two weeks to the April election, and no nominations have been made, and no free fights commenced. What's the matter? Are the people of the city to be deprived of their regular local quarrel over municipal officers? Have we forgotten our personal hatreds, our old feuds and jealousies, and the long fostering animosities that are usually brought to the surface about election day? To keep up and maintain our former well established reputation in this particular, we should have at least five candidates for mayor and a proportional number for the other offices. What are the different parties, factions, cliques, jufatos and sets about? Where are the Radical, the Democratic, the Republican Union, the Union Republican, the Temperance, the Anti-Temperance, the East Side, the West Side, and the Johnson parties? Is this the quiet that precedes the storm?

But perhaps we are too fast in the matter. There may be time enough yet for our usual quarrel. Let us have it by all means. There are plenty of men who might be nominated for office that would excite the life of an indignant people, and there are no lack of issues. This tranquility is worse than death. Arise, or be forever fallen!
